The MultiMedia Minute combines our industry leading ConferenceAnytime™ reservationless service with WebDialogs web conferencing for a single low price!

What is a MultiMedia Minute?

When you establish your account, you will receive ConferenceAnytime reservationless audio conferencing service that is integrated with WebDialogs web conferencing service. You can use the audio conferencing only, the web conferencing only or use the audio and web together - no matter what combination, it's still the same low price per minute.

ConferenceAnytime

ConferenceAnytime is our 24X7 reservationless audio conferencing service that lets you host a teleconference any time you like. ConferenceAnytime offers many features and functions that allow you to manage your conference including online tools and security features.

WebDialogs

WebDialogs provides a secure web-based presentation and collaboration tool that will enable you to conduct virtual presentations, illustrate product concepts, share files and applications, or simply capture meeting ideas. So whether you are giving a formal sales presentation or collaborating with a group of colleagues, Webdialogs allows you to share your ideas as if you were sitting in the next chair.
